

Q. I believe my Assessed Value is too high. What can I do to get my Assessed Value Reviewed?

A. Individual requests for property reviews are scheduled throughout the year, upon request by the owner. A review of your assessment can be completed by physically inspecting your property to ensure that all of the information is correct. This also includes comparing your property to similar properties. The goal of a property review is to ensure your property's market value is fair and equitable.

If you are still not satisfied with your assessment upon receipt of your February assessment notice, you will need to schedule an appointment to meet with our March Board of Review. The Board of Review meets during the first week in March, beginning that first Tuesday. By law, the March Board of Review is the annual cut-off to contest your property assessment. If you fail to schedule a meeting for the March Board of Review, you will miss your opportunity to protest your property tax assessment for that year.

Source URL (retrieved on 2012-05-11 05:33):

<http://www.cityofholland.com/assessing/q-i-believe-my-assessed-value-too-high-what-can-i-do-get-my-assessed-value-reviewed>