

Electronics Recycling

Electronics Recycling

Disposing of electronic waste in landfills or dumpsters has a negative impact on the environment. Electronics are full of toxic elements and improper disposal enables toxic waste to seep into the soil and water supplies. Examples of home electronics, include computers, televisions, monitors, fax machines, small household appliances, cell phones, and printers etc.,

Thank you, Citizens of Holland for a very successful Electronics Collection on April 30. Thanks to your participation, we have diverted 26,052 lbs. (13.26 tons) of electronics equipment from our landfills! Way to Go! Continue to watch this site for information on additional electronics collections in our area!

Please direct any questions about electronics recycling to Mary Ann Hensley @ 616.355.1335 or m.
hensley@cityofholland.com

Source URL (retrieved on 2012-05-10 16:53):

<http://www.cityofholland.com/solidwasteandrecycling/electronics-recycling-0>