

MAPLEWOOD NEIGHBORHOOD

WE WANT YOU TO LIVE HERE

If the name, “Maplewood” has you picturing the kind of peaceful, tree-lined neighborhood you want to spend your life in, you’re in luck. If you’re also picturing a neighborhood with two of the city’s best sports parks, you’re in even more luck. And if you’re picturing a neighborhood that’s five minutes from Holland’s growing employment base, well guess what? Yep, for people who want as little distance as possible between work-time, and great-family-in-the-neighborhood-time, this is it.

The places in the neighborhood.

The Maplewood neighborhood is nestled along 32nd and 40th Street near Holland’s growing employment base. Here you’ll find places like Jonkers Gardens, which has been helping Holland’s front yards and gardens look terrific for decades. And you’ll be pleased to discover grocery shopping, hardware, auto service, restaurants, second hand, and even a scuba diving store. Plus, there are plenty of banks and credit unions to help you out with all that shopping. What’s more, you’re only minutes away from Holland’s amazing Downtown and a very short drive from the myriad of national franchise shopping options that line Highway 31 just to the North.

Go outside and play.

In the heart of Maplewood, Maplewood Youth Sports Complex and Matt Urban Park are home to baseball and softball fields, soccer fields, playgrounds and plenty of places to picnic. This complex hosts Holland’s Little League for boys and girls. The park is also home to Holland’s playground program. This free, drop in program offers games, sports, fitness, arts and crafts, snacks, lunch and from time to time a special guest. So hop on your bike or grab your walking stick and stroll down to the park for some fun.

The Brady Bunch.

Picture tree-lined streets, and homes built from 1960 to 1980. It’s an area full of single-family homes with large back yards, many big enough for Brady-sized families. Haven’t added a Jan, Marsha, or Greg lately. No worries. You will find quaint homes, starter homes, bungalows and small ranches, most with pretty big back yards.

Closer. Shorter. Cheaper.

In Maplewood, it’s just a few minutes drive to the major highways in and around Holland. It makes that trip to Chicago, Grand Rapids or San Antonio a little quicker! Being close to work is important too. So, if you plan on working for Johnson Controls, Herman Miller, Haworth, LG Chem or Lean Logistics, living here turns your commute into a snap. Make sense? Or should we also mention the price of gas?

Getting about town.

Maplewood is bordered by two main arteries, Washington Avenue and Lincoln Avenue. Both bring you just about anywhere you want to go. And if you want to make that drive a bit easier, well, don’t drive at all. Ride the MAX, and mass transit yourself to where you’re going.

See more. Check out our awesome Holland video and visit www.enjoyhollandmichigan.com.

WHY MAPLEWOOD?

EVERYTHING FROM
CONDOS AND STARTER
HOMES TO EXECUTIVE LIVING.

PEACEFUL
NEIGHBORHOODS FOR BIKING, WALKING,
SKIPPING AND JUMPING.

A VARIETY OF DINING OPTIONS FROM PIZZA
JOINTS TO SOUL FOOD.

EASY ACCESS TO THE
REST OF HOLLAND BY FOOT, BIKE, CAR, OR MAX TRANSIT.

MAPLEWOOD NEIGHBORHOOD

- Public Park
- Commercial / Shopping
- Places of Interest

Approximately 3 Minutes
Walking Distance

School

